

Help our Birds Survive the Winter!

During winter birds must find reliable sources of food to survive. Unfortunately, many birds are lost to starvation.

With much of our native-bird habitat dwindling, we can help them survive by offering high calorie foods.

Make sure to keep feeders clean and near vegetative cover to protect them from predators. Report any stray or outdoor cats that may learn of feeders and prey on birds.

You can also help birds by planting native and by not using pesticides, especially neonicotinoids.

For more information visit
www.wbu.com/education/winterbirdfeeding.html

For more Bird Friendly
Living Tips visit us at
RoaringForkAudubon.org

